

Wayne County Muck Potato Show, Meeting Set for Newark Feb. 24 and 25

BUREAU LISTS PREMIUMS FOR ANNUAL EVENT

Session Planned On Day After Exhibition

Sodus—The fourth annual Wayne County Muck Potato Show and winter meeting has been set for Feb. 24 and 25 in the Newark Grange Hall, according to Morris Rutt, Sodus, chairman of the Farm Bureau Muck Potato Committee. The premium list for potato exhibits is ready for distribution and is available at the Farm Bureau office here.

The Muck Potato Committee at its February show plans to introduce a section for 4-H Potato Club members. With the assistance of Merle Cunningham, County 4-H Club Agent, five tuber classes for Cobblers, Green Mountain, Smooth Rurals, Russet Burbanks and other varieties are provided. A bushel of tuber stock, any variety, in bags, is one of the important classes in the show. Premium money in the more popular sections probably will start at six dollars. Again in 1938, the Newark-Courier trophy will be awarded to the man judged to be Wayne County's premier muck potato grower and exhibitor.

BENEFIT BALL TO LURE MANY

—Mt. Morris—Livingston County's efforts to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis through the medium of birthday balls for the President will far exceed previous efforts, according to L. C. Donovan, Livingston County chairman.

Geneva Kiwanis Maps 1938 Work

Geneva—A discussion on projects for the year featured yesterday's dinner meeting of the Geneva Kiwanis Club.

No definite project was undertaken but several were referred to the committee on public affairs for further study. S. A. Gilbert, chairman of the committee on public affairs, reported that Frank Fairfax is in a serious condition in Geneva General Hospital. Fairfax, a business man, has been active in Kiwanis affairs. P. G. Flannigan is seriously ill in Syracuse.

An outline of the "Nurse Practice Bill" sponsored by the New York State Nurses Association, was discussed and referred to a committee. The local club voted to enter an attendance contest of the Fourth Division, including clubs in Auburn, Binghamton, Corning, Delhi, Elmira, Endicott, Geneva, Ithaca, Oneonta, Owego, Seneca Falls and Walton. All losing clubs are to forfeit $10 to the winner. The money will be used for charitable purposes. The plan was originated by Louis G. Frank Phillips of the Geneva Club.

Driver Gets Bail In Fatality Quiz

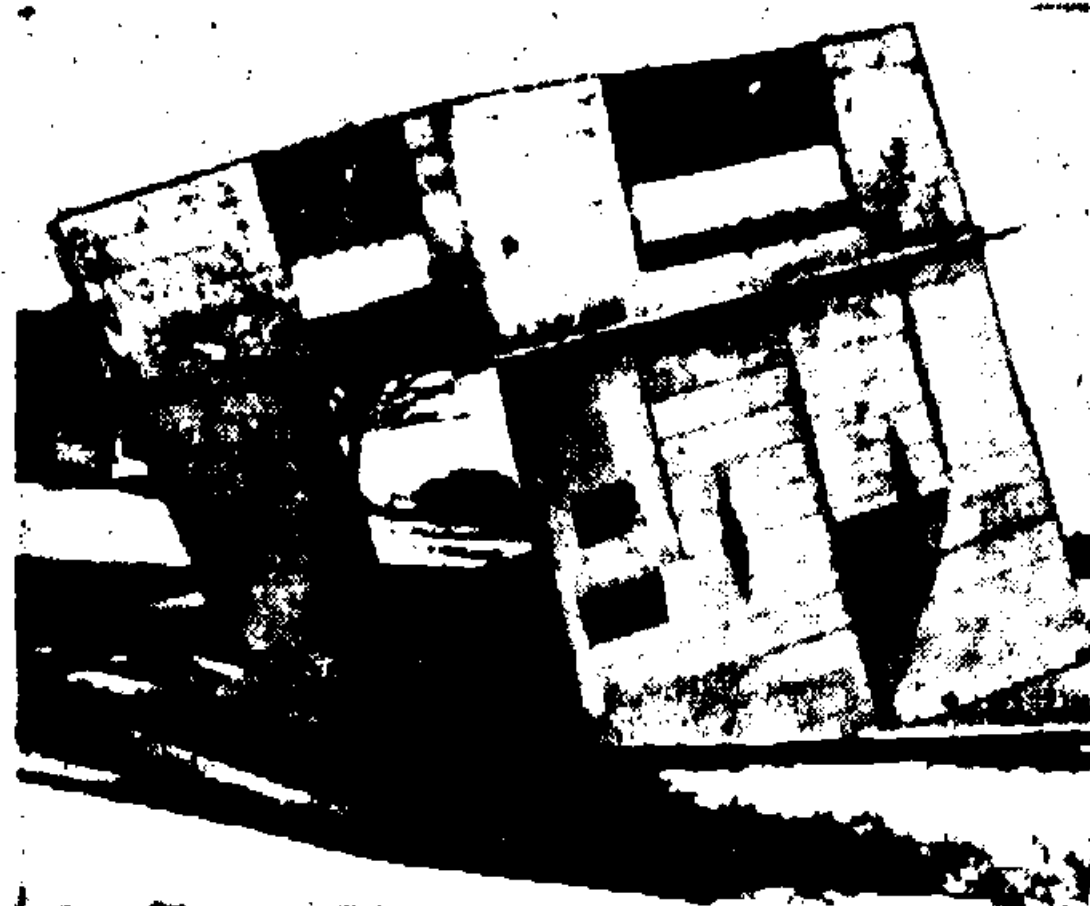

Geneva—Gerald Bryant, Mt. Morris, arrested Monday on a charge of criminal negligence in connection with the death of Mary Martin, Mt. Morris, has been released in $1,000 bail pending hearing before Justice Samuel C. Culey at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the office of District Attorney Elliott A. Horton.

Bryant's arrest was made after Livingston County Coroner Tracy C. was handed down a decision of criminal negligence after he had conducted an inquest several weeks ago.

Investigation revealed Mrs. Martin was crossing Main St. at Mt. Morris, on Dec. 24, when she was struck by the Bryant car. She was taken to a doctor for treatment and died a few days later.

Special Agent in Charge of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, the New York State Police and Deputy Sheriff Steve Conner assisted Dr. Swan in his investigations.

YOUTH SPEAKS IN DEFENSE OF DEMOCRACIES

Seneca Falls Club Hears Appeal for End of Strife

Seneca Falls—"We must believe in our form of democracy as the only right form of government, even though there are advantages to the dictatorship," Everett F. Jacoby, president of Mynderse Academy's senior class told Seneca Falls yesterday at their luncheon meeting in the Gould Hotel.

"We can easily cope with the problems of communism and fascism," said the young speaker, "if we satisfy the working men of the country and also the capitalists and by doing this, we will steal the thunder of the communists."

The communists," he continued, "believe in revolution while the socialists believe in evolution." He described communism as a more violent form of socialism and told of the background of communism in Russia. He compared it with the forms of fascism in Italy and Germany.

Jacoby said that too often other dictatorial forms of government throw a smoke screen over their activities by saying they are combating the evils of communism.

"The dangers of communism and fascism," he said, "lie in the promotion of class and racial hatred and their curtailing of the inherent rights of men, socially, religiously and economically."

Geneva Pair Wed By 'Marrying Judge'

Waterloo—Seneca County's "marrying judge" for more than two decades, J. Charles Fillingham of Waterloo has added another marital knot to his long record, he announced yesterday.

A. his North Road home Saturday he united in matrimony Miss Canandaigua DeJohn and Josephine Bazzara of Ithaca, a cousin of the bridegroom. The young couple will reside in Geneva.

Genesee Considers Plan Of Co-Operation to Aid Industries, Provide Jobs

Batavia—Genesee County Supervisors have under consideration a plan designed to bolster the county's industries and aid unemployment.

Robert L. Turner, Buffalo architect, is the author of the scheme that would be carried out by working with industries, railroads, power companies and Chambers of Commerce to "make it easy" for manufacturers to learn the advantages of locating in this section.

Turner, who has acted as consulting engineer for the county and towns in numerous railroad litigations, pointed out that the county has many large industries idle or only working part time, adding, "It is time the section did something to put its men back to work."

Turner estimated that there are 1,800 unemployed in the county, 800 on WPA and 900 with only part-time employment.

"Large industries have their own research departments," he said, "but small businesses need help and the county should be willing to cooperate. This is something new and no one has given much thought to it."

"If an industry wants to locate, there is some agency through which it should be able to study conditions and learn the advantages. I believe by working with the manufacturers, railroads and power companies I could do something for this area."

Turner said his plan would also include diversifying large factories, idle because of lack of market, to other lines.

Road Heads Plan Canandaigua Parley

Canandaigua—County and town highway problems will be discussed by representatives of the State Highway Division with Ontario County supervisors, town highway superintendents and members of town boards at an annual conference in the Courthouse here today.

Among the state officials planning to attend the conference is John Evans, auditor in the highway department. The meeting is scheduled for 2 p. m.

PASTOR LAUDS SCOTTISH FOLK AS CHARITABLE

Asserts Contrary Tales Fashioned For Publicity

Penn Yan—A Scotchman told Penn Yan Rotarians yesterday that the Scotch people are "the most charitable on the face of the earth."

Introduced as "the man with the real 'br'!", the Rev. George A. Henderson, retired Methodist minister who spent 44 years in India, explained to the luncheon meeting that most of the stories about the Scotchman are "made up in Aberdeen for publicity purposes."

The Rev. Mr. Henderson, who lives at nearby Keuka Park, cited the life of Andrew Carnegie, the philanthropist, as "the life of many a Scotchman." In Scotland, he explained, "you have to be an expert farmer to make a living off the land there and so the Scotchman has learned to be very economical and to hang on to what he's got."

Topping the list of typical Scotch stories which he told was one about the three Scotchmen who went fishing with the agreement that the first one to catch a fish was to pay for the dinner for the three.

Taking part of one, the minister said he knew the other two had had bites and had fish on their lines but refused to haul them in. "Then you must have lost," remarked a listener. "No," he said, "I wasn't worried about that. I didn't bait my hook!"

Donald Seager, Penn Yan Academy pupil, was the three-minute speaker of the day, outlining the difficulties overcome by Glen Cunningham, the mile runner, since his childhood. He was introduced by Elwyn Fries, the other Academy boy who is attending Rotary meetings for a month as school representative.
