Scout troop remembers Rusty

By BETTY AUTEN

WATERLOO — Scout Troop 81 officially opened the "Rusty Pedersen Memorial Lodge" last Friday with a dedication.

Mrs. Dolores Pedersen, Rusty's mother, and many members of the First Presbyterian Church of Waterloo were present at the unveiling of the plaque over the door of the 20 by 40 foot building.

Rusty, killed in a boat accident with his father, on Seneca Lake about three years ago, was a member of Troop 81. He was scheduled to be at Camp Babcock-Hovey the day after he was killed in the boating accident, to work towards his Eagle Scout award. He had received his Life Scout award shortly before he died.

Bob Getz, Scoutmaster of Troop 81, had often dreamed of a building at the camp for winter camping. After Rusty's death he stopped dreaming and began planning the lodge. The boys of the troop were enthusiastic over the idea. Bob and David Prosser, a committeeman of the troop, approached the members of the Presbyterian Church for help in financing the cost of the building.

The church was more than willing to help, according to Scouts. Many needed items were donated or sold at cost by local lumber yards and hardware stores.

Getz, a master carpenter by trade, designed the building. The entire project was made, nail by nail and board by board, by the boys and men of Troop 81.

The 20 by 40 foot building can sleep more than 20 boys and men at a time and has heat and lights. It was built in a grove of trees facing the large field on the south side of the camp, overlooking Seneca Lake.

According to Getz, many deer crossed the field while they were working on the building. The place was tested by the boys last winter and early this spring.

Tom Reynolds, Scout administrator, commended the men, young and old, who remembered their friend in a way that can benefit hundreds of boys for many years to come.

Curriculum council presents plans

CLYDE — Vice-principal Joseph Kolczynski submitted reports on plans from the curriculum council during a presentation at the July meeting of the Clyde-Savannah Board of Education.

The Summer Migrant program is being conducted as in previous years. Plans for an on-campus course in reading are scheduled for fall in conjunction with State University College at Geneseo. Mr. Kolczynski

Also being considered, he said, are two student subjects to be known as Ground and Aviation, and Junior High Shop tools.

During a discussion on policy for hiring new teachers, Elementary Principal Vincent Vilaro noted that 80 per cent of the elementary staff has four or less years of experience. He commented that some experienced teachers are needed and that it takes five years to make a good teacher.

An updated report was given on the new track under construction, the site work on the baseball diamond, and the fencing.

It was learned that a job meeting will be held every two weeks on the building construction program until the work is completed. Funds will be held and if work is not satisfactory, the matter will be brought to the attention of the bonding company.

A proposal for new bleachers was tabled as it was believed that they would be too late for this fall. Albany conferences for new board members and presidents were authorized for Aug. 3-4 and September.

The high bid of $968.68 from Greenville Bus was accepted for a bus, and the high bid of $1802.95 from Michael Kolczynski for a school car was accepted.
